WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential envoys Clark Clifford and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor returned from their Southeast Asian trip today reporting they found general agreement among the allies on how to push ahead with the Vietnam war.

"A great degree of consensus," was how Taylor summed up the attitude of allied leaders on which he was slated to report to President Johnson this afternoon.

"There was unanimous agreement among all the allies that the bombing should be carried on at its present level or possibly at an increased level," Clifford added.

No Troops Asked
And there was no reluctance expressed about sending more troops to Vietnam from other allied countries, Taylor said, "because we were not asking for more troops."

Johnson dispatched the two senior presidential advisers to talk with the chiefs of the countries who have forces fighting the Communists in Vietnam. Their two-week trip took them to South Vietnam, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and South Korea.

Taylor is the former U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam and Clifford, a Washington lawyer, has been an adviser to Johnson and other Democratic presidents.

Checks Campaigns
While little concrete information has been given out concerning the Clifford-Taylor mission, Johnson apparently sent his senior confidants to talk with the leaders of the nations with troops in South Vietnam to:

Schnipke Rebuts Guard Criticism

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan National Guard performed to the best of its ability during last week's racial violence in Detroit, a high-ranking guard official said Friday.

Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke made the statement in a letter to U.S. Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., who reportedly criticized the guard in a Senate speech. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, reportedly criticized the guard for inefficiency despite 10,000 men and all the equipment required, said Schnipke.

"The problem was that the troops were not requested by the city of Detroit until the riot had expanded almost to its maximum intensity which was then too late," said Schnipke. "I am sure you are aware that even with active Army troops and the entire Michigan National Guard it took almost four days and nights to bring some semblance of order."

Lacked Transport
Schnipke said the available strength of the guard was 8,000 men, not 10,000.

"You must be advised too," he added, "that we do not have all the equipment we need and that when 3,000 men in the 2nd

Rioting Strikes Wichita, Elgin

By The Associated Press

Roaming groups of Negroes pelleted police with rocks and bottles and set several fires Friday night and early today in Wichita, Kan., and Elgin, Ill., marred an otherwise peaceful night on the nation's streets. At least 15 persons were injured in the two cities, five of them policemen.

Milwaukee relaxed its nighttime curfew on drink and travel until midnight Friday, allowing taverns to resume normal business for the first time since riots hit the city's inner core on Sunday.

Delaware Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. declared a state of emergency in Wilmington to deal with what he called "rebellion." Aides said thought the city was currently quiet, a "potential" for trouble existed.

In Wichita, the confrontation between police and the Negroes took place after Mayor Clarence Vollmer imposed an emergency curfew in the northeast part of the city.

Police had requested the quarantine after bands of youths roamed the streets uncontrolled. A total of 15 to 20 arrests were reported.

Earlier city commissioners agreed to see three representatives of the Negro community next week and hear their grievances. Two police officers were injured by flying debris. Police said fires were set at two businesses and in a car, but all were quickly extinguished.

At Elgin, Ill., authorities clamped a 10 p.m. curfew after a half-dozen fires broke out Friday night. Officials said five were caused by gasoline bombs. Three Negroes were arrested and charged with arson.

The disturbance was the second within a week in Elgin, 30 miles west of Chicago.

Police Training Payments Made
EAST LANSING (AP) — The first checks have been distributed to participating communities under a law establishing the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council. Police agencies representing 76 city, township and sheriff departments were mailed checks totaling $68,500. The money represents a 50 per cent reimbursement for salaries and living expenses of 263 officers who attended 12 approved area police training schools.

Temporary Tax Tends To Linger

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Temporary taxes have had a way of lingering on — almost permanently. But government officials say they don't want that to happen to the proposed temporary 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes sent to Congress by President Johnson.

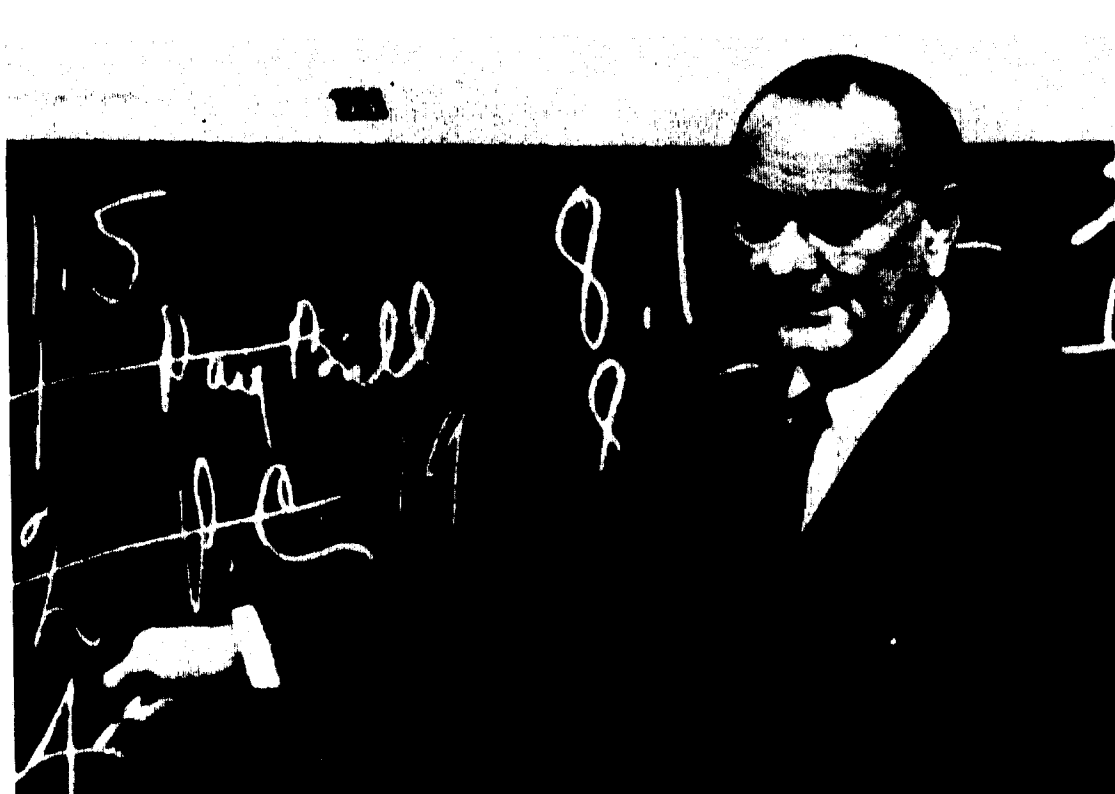

His plan calls for the surcharge to expire June 30, 1969, or to continue only so long as the Vietnam war lasts. Top officials say they hope this timetable can be kept. But a look at some past "temporary taxes" make the outlook bleak.

The tax on transportation first enacted in World War I, expired after the war but was re-established for World War II. Part of it — a 5 per cent tax on air transportation — lingers on.

The alcohol tax of $9.50 per gallon was raised "temporarily" to $10.50 during the Korean War but was later made permanent.

Although the administration has worked to rid the tax system of as many excises as possible, it now wants to postpone some reductions which are scheduled for next year. On April 1, the 7 per cent manufacturer's auto excise tax is scheduled to fall to 2 per cent and to 1 per cent on Jan. 1, 1969.

Johnson now has asked Congress to postpone the first drops to July 1, 1969, and the second drops to Jan. 1, 1970.

THE WHITE HOUSE released this picture showing President Johnson explaining to newsmen his tax increase request sent to Congress. He asked for a temporary surcharge of 10 per cent on both individual and corporate income taxes. No news photographers were permitted to take pictures at the briefing. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Warplane Raid Hits Kep Gun Positions

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes kept up heavy pressure on North Vietnam Friday, flying 145 missions after a record 197 strikes the previous day, and a main target was the Communist guns which were shooting at them.

Air Force F105 Thunderchief pilots reported they destroyed at least 17 anti-aircraft gun emplacements around the air field and railroad yard at Kep, 38 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Other pilots flew through heavy anti-aircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles to hit other military targets and fuel storage areas.

Pilot Missing
The Communist fire brought down a Navy Skyhawk and the pilot was missing. It was the 636th announced U.S. warplane loss over the North.

Ground fighting continued in one of its periodic lulls, but South Vietnamese military headquarters said three infantry sweeps in the Viet Cong-infested Mekong delta had accounted for a total of 469 enemy dead in nine days.

The Viet Cong struck again at two U.S. military installations near Saigon.

For the second time in 10 days, the Communists unleashed a mortar attack on the base camp of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade at Lai Khe, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Attack Navy Base
The attack Friday night killed one American and wounded eight. A Communist rocket and mortar barrage on the base camp July 27 killed 11 U.S. soldiers and wounded 43.

The U.S. naval base at Nhe Be, eight miles southeast of Saigon, came under Communist recoilless rifle attack early today for the second time in three days.

The Navy said Communists fired eight or nine rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle rounds into the complex, but that only two hit the base. The others landed in the Long Tau river bordering the base, from which Navy patrol boats conduct operations against the Viet Cong in the delta.

Riot Charges Peril Poverty War Funding

Stamp Boost More Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rate schedule more in line with the Johnson administration's proposal to spread rate increases through the different classes.

The President's tax proposal had been on Capitol Hill a bare 24 hours when Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., the most vocal House supporter of increased rates for third class mail—through which so-called "junk mail" such as unsolicited advertising is sent—linked the two issues Friday.

"It doesn't make sense for Congress to approve a 10 per cent tax increase, when a nice chunk of these taxes goes directly to subsidize junk mailers," Hechler said in a statement.

"Why do we have to raise both first class postal rates and taxes to help pay for junk mail?" he asked.

By voting to make postage for letters and post cards 6 cents—including greeting cards—and for air letters and cards 10 cents, the subcommittee added $90.1 million to the administration's proposal for a $571.4 million increase.

But it knocked $89.5 million—or nearly 40 per cent—off the proposed $175.9 million increase for third class mail, which includes such bulk mailings as catalogs, and samples as well as solicitations.

Hart Protests Senate Inquiry Trend On Cause

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate champion of the war on poverty says the program is imperiled by "stabs in the back" falsely linking it to men and money with racial hatred and Negro rioting.

But a Southern senator said such charges against antipov-erty agencies have not been proved false.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said in his view the charges were substantiated by the very witness summoned to deny them.

"We serve nobody's interests except the fellow that wants to cause a riot by whacking at the poverty program," said Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., criticizing the course of a Senate Judiciary Committee inquiry into Negro rioting. Eastland heads the committee.

Program Faces Trouble
President Johnson's $2 billion poverty program request already faces trouble in Congress.

"This is sure as hell not helping," Hart said in an interview. "It doesn't need this kind of stabs in the back, unverified charges and irrelevancies."

Another defense of the poverty program came Friday from the Rev. J. P. Schall Davis, who denied the Nashville, Tenn., antipov-erty agency he heads has funneled funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity to a school accused of teaching Ne-

State Asked To Delay Nursing Home Closing

By CLINT DUNATHAN
An emergency appeal will be made to State authorities to delay the closing of the Delta Nursing Home.

The appeal is one of the steps recommended by the Civic Affairs Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce following a discussion meeting at the Chamber office Friday afternoon.

Irving Olsen, Civic Affairs Committee chairman, conducted the meeting attended by about a dozen persons including Charles Sedenquist, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, and Rep. Charles Varnum, Manistique.

Rep. Varnum said that in Lansing on Monday he will ask the Michigan Department of Health to extend the closing deadline, which has been set by the State for Oct. 1.

Sedenquist told the committee that the County Board of Supervisors will support the request to keep the county-owned facility open.

The Nursing Home is operated under lease by Mrs. Della Peterson. It has been ordered to close on Oct. 1 because the building fails to meet safety standards set by the state.

"We had 47 patients and now it is down to 28 as the time draws closer," said Mrs. Peterson. "We have also lost some of the members of our staff, who have found other positions."

"I flew to Lansing in July to appear before the state's board of appeals and it granted an extension to Oct. 1, but they said they would not extend beyond that date because the county has made no commitment on what it will do," she told the Civic Affairs committee.

"And so some of the patients who wanted to stay are at the Nursing Home are gone, and we have lost some of our good help."

Plan Medicenter
Sedenquist said the county has had to "wait and see" what action will be taken by the Willow Creek Developers in their proposal to construct a medical care facility for older persons in the Doctors Park in Escanaba.

Dr. Donald Fitch of Willow Creek Developers said that it will be a matter of several weeks before it can be definitely determined whether the proposed medicenter will be constructed. A survey report will be received soon and is expected to show there is a need for such a facility, he said.

Problems of financing have yet to be met. If these problems are resolved, construction of a 64-bed facility with possible expansion up to 128 could begin within a few months and be completed next spring or summer.

Nursing Care
"But until certain things are clarified for us, we cannot go out on a limb at this time," Dr. Fitch emphasized.

The discussion also made clear the distinction between the services of a medicenter for older persons in need of medical care; while other patients needing less or no medication could be cared for in a nursing home. The latter group might be in sufficient number in Delta County to require more, not less, housing for them.

A number of persons are in "permitted homes" in Delta County where "they cannot be given adequate care," said Mrs. Peterson. Their situation is more hazardous than if they were in the Delta Nursing Home, because "medications are just left on a table beside them for them to take if they can remember when and how much."

The Objective
Civic Affairs Committee Chairman Olsen outlined the objectives of the discussion:

1 — Get facts and figures on a cost of bringing the County Nursing Home up to state standards.

2 — Support the request for an extension in the closing of the Home.

3 — Encourage the construction of the proposed medicenter in Escanaba.

4 — Request from Thomas McDermott, Delta County director of Social Welfare, information on the number of persons needing nursing home patient facilities in the county.

No Cost Total
The date of Friday, Aug. 18, at 4 p.m. in the Chamber office was set for the next meeting. McDermott will be invited to be present.

Rep. Varnum told the group that on Monday he will appeal to the State Health Department and the state fire marshal for an extension of the use of the county Nursing Home for one year.

"I believe the county may be asked to show some improvements. I can't say there will be an extension. But if you want it I will try and get it for a year or for as long as possible," Varnum said.

Delta Board Chairman Sedenquist said the Board does not have a total estimated cost figure on improving the Nursing Home to meet state standards.

However, a sprinkler system which is first on the state's list of requirements will cost an estimated $25,000; plus about $20,000 for an outside elevator; and additional costs for widening hallways, rewiring and other work, he said.

"Do you think the Home is worth keeping open?" Olsen asked Sedenquist.

"I don't think so," the Board chairman replied.

Sedenquist reported that the county had unsuccessfully applied to the state for assistance in financing the improvements on Dec. 8, 1966.

"But they told us Delta County couldn't qualify, that there isn't the need there is in other counties," he reported.

Walter Lewke, Chamber of Commerce manager, in opening the meeting declared the purpose was to "find out if there is a stalemate and to get at the facts."

He directed attention to the county-wide responsibility of the program of care and housing for the aged. Escanaba has 15,000 of the county's population and 18,000 reside outside the city, making the situation "not just a city problem," he said.

Among those attending the meeting were Dr. A. A. Gossan, Francis Boyce, A. V. Aronson, John J. Bartella and Councilman Cecil Chase.

Sister Benilda Is Delegate

Sister M. Benilda, teacher at Holy Name High School, Escanaba, will be one of 30 delegates representing the Mequon Province of the School Sisters of Notre Dame at the 13th Educational Conference to be held Aug. 14-18 at the College of Notre Dame of Maryland. She will be a member of the publicity committee.

"Leadership in Education" will be the theme of the meeting which will be attended by more than 1,000 SSNDs from eight U. S. provinces and Canada. They will view in perspective the current educational scene and evaluate their contribution to it; discuss new educational ideas and share the results of experimentation; and formulate educational policies.

Key speaker for the first general session, Aug. 16, is Brother E. Anthony Wallace, FSC, Associate Secretary of NCEA, who will discuss the role of the administrator and of the school staff in educational leadership.

New trends in the catechetical movement, the "new morality," and innovation in teaching biblical material will be discussed by Rev. James J. DeGiacomo, S. J., in his series of lectures, Aug. 17, on "Leadership in Religious Education."

A panel discussion on "New Horizons in the Apostolate" will explore the widened teaching horizons of this teaching congregation who opened their first schools in America in 1847. Topics are Newman Apostolate, Adult Education, Urban Challenge, and Human Rights.

Conference delegates from across the United States and Canada will tour Washington, D. C., at the close of the conference.

The School Sisters of Notre Dame have 662 schools and other institutions in America, which are staffed by over 7,000 sisters. In the Upper Peninsula, the serve Holy Name High School and St. Joseph Grade School in Escanaba; St. Francis Xavier, Sault Ste. Marie; St. Sebastian, Bessemer; and Sacred Heart Central, Calumet.

Former Nun And Priest Marry In Midland Friday

MIDLAND (AP) — A former Roman Catholic priest and the former superior of a Catholic convent today are man and wife after their marriage in an Episcopal church.

The Rev. Frank E. DeWitt, 36, until recently assistant pastor at St. Brigid's Catholic Church in Midland, exchanged vows Friday night with Marilyn Corby, the 34-year-old former superior of nearby St. Brigid's convent.

The simple ceremony was performed in St. John's Episcopal Church in Midland by the Rev. William O. Swan, assistant pastor.

"It was just like any other marriage ceremony," said the Rev. Mr. Swan. "The couple came to me a few weeks ago. They said they'd gotten permission from the Most Rev. Bishop Stephen Wozniak, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Saginaw, to get married in an Episcopal church."

The newlyweds, said Mr. Swan, could not get permission to marry within their own communion.

Catholic canon law forbids the clergy to marry except in very unusual circumstances.

"So I held a number of conferences with them," said Mr. Swan. "We discussed the usual things, such as a review of the responsibilities of the people about to get married and their intent and ability to create a Christian home."

"The only difference between these conferences and those preceding as normal marriage," said the Rev. Swan, "was a discussion about the unusual circumstance of the marriage."

Shortly before the ceremony, attended only by the families of DeWitt and his wife, the couple issued a statement.

Personal Choice
"The exercise of the right to marry is within the realm of personal choice, rather than institutional choice," they said.

We hold the right for a priest to marry in accordance with Paul."

In his first letter to the Corinthians, St. Paul wrote: "Do we not have the right to be acpanied by a wife as the other apostles and brothers of the Lord and Cephas?" Cephas was the first pope.

"Furthermore," wrote the couple, "a priest may morally pursue the right to marriage in accordance with the statement of Pope John XXIII — 'he who has the right has also the duty demanding those marks of his dignity.'"

To Remain Catholics
In the statement, the couple said they interpret the late Pope's comment to mean "that it is unjust that the love between a man and a woman leading to the stable union of marriage should be a cause for a priest being unable to exercise his ministry."

Though Catholic teaching maintains that a wedding outside the church is not sanctified by the church, Mr. Swan said both DeWitt and his wife intend to remain Catholics.

"I hold the general Anglican view on celibacy," he said. "It should not be required except for a monastery or organization based on celibacy. I've got three children myself."

Mr. Swan said the groom wore a simple black suit without the roman collar at the ceremony, while the bride had on a plain dress.

Both DeWitt and his wife had resigned their positions at St. Brigid's, he said and were planning to take up teaching positions in another town.

Act Next Week On Prohibition Of Gill Netting

The Michigan Conservation Commission is scheduled to take action next week on a proposal to ban gill nets in Lakes Superior and Michigan beginning next year. The commission meets in East Lansing Thursday and Friday.

Staff members of the Michigan Conservation Department have recommended that the commission prohibit the use of gill nets in Michigan waters of the two lakes but allow the setting of gill nets of 2 and 1/2 to 2 and 3/4-inch mesh on the bottom in waters of 50 fathoms or more for taking chubs.

The proposed new restrictions would be effective next Feb. 15 in Lake Michigan and April 1 in Lake Superior.

Stating that the uncontrolled use of gill nets is the most serious threat to the department's program to rehabilitate trout populations and develop a total fishery, department officials strongly urged the new controls that have been vigorously opposed by commercial fishermen.

"The gill net fishery is lethal and wasteful," said Wayne H. Tody, chief of the department's fish division. "Most, if not all, of the conflicts between various interests stem from the wide use of gill nets. In gill nets the incidental catch of protected salmonid species (salmon, trout) is intolerably high. As rehabilitation efforts expand, the problem will be intensified."

Tody said the department has a four-fold objective in managing the Great Lakes fishery: (1) To establish a balanced fish population dominated by abundant population of valuable predatory fish, especially salmonids (2) to control the overabundance of alewives; (3) to promote and develop an attractive recreational fishery and (4) to regulate the commercial fishery so that it can contribute to maximizing the value of the total fishery.

Commercial fishing interests have vehemently protested the department's policy of assigning priority to sport fishing on the Great Lakes at the expense of commercial fishing. They state that this is economically unsound and that there is room for both sport and commercial fishing.

In addition to the gill net proposal, the commission will be asked to give final approval to several other rules governing commercial fishing. One calls for closing commercial fishing on Lake Huron for lake trout and splake. Another regulates possession and disposition of lake trout and splake in Lakes Superior and Michigan. Another prohibits commercial fishing for coho and chinook salmon in Michigan waters of the Great Lakes. And another closes part of Tahquamenon Bay to commercial fishing from June 1 to Nov. 30.

1st Class Mail To Go By Air

Several changes in dispatch of mail from the Escanaba Post Office were announced today by Postmaster James Pryal. Similar changes are being made in Marquette, Hancock, Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie and will send all first class mail, except that destined for the Upper Peninsula, Wisconsin and Northern Lower Peninsula points, by air, effective immediately.

The public will have to conform to dispatch schedules to get the advantages of air mail dispatch.

In Escanaba there will be three daily dispatches by air, two from Escanaba and one by truck to Iron Mountain for air dispatch there.

The dispatches leave the Escanaba Post Office at 7:50 a.m. and must be in the Post Office by 7:30 a.m. to make this dispatch; at 1:40 p.m. and must be in the PO at 1:20 and at 4:10 p.m. (for Iron Mountain) and must be in the PO by 3:30 p.m.

The Escanaba PO will not change its mail pickups in the city. There are now 7 daily, but not all pickups cover all boxes every time. The first is at 4 a.m. for overnight mail, the second between 9:30 and 10:30, the third at 11:40 a.m. which is the last which will take mail to the Post Office for air dispatch that day. The other pickups are at 4, 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

In Service

Barbara J. Broman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Broman, Mounted Route, Box 504, Escanaba, has been promoted to specialist five at Kimbrough Army Hospital, Fort Meade, Md., where she is on duty as a wardmaster. A 1965 graduate of Escanaba Area Public High School, she entered the Army in February 1966. She received her basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala., in May 1966.

Marine Pvt. Michael J. LaMarche, Rte. 1, Escanaba, has reported for duty with Headquarters and Maintenance Squadron 37, an element of Marine Wing Service Group 37 at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, Santa Ana, Calif.

Army Spec. 4 Raymond E. Roberts, 28, son of Mrs. Elsie S. Roberts, 1511 3rd Ave. N., Escanaba, is participating in "Exercise Coral Sands II," a joint-service amphibious assault on the island of Molekai, Hawaii. Stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, he is one of more than 6,000 soldiers and sailors participating in the mock operation. Spec. Roberts, a team leader in Troop E, 1st Cavalry, 11th Infantry Brigade, entered the Army in Jan., 1966.

Escanaba Student Translates Story For Magazine

Mike Gafner, son of Mr. and Mrs. August C. Gafner, 826 S. 15th St., is the translator of a short story in the winter edition of "Texas Quarterly," a literary publication of the University of Texas.

Gafner, a 1965 graduate of Escanaba Area High School, is a junior majoring in Spanish at Eastern Michigan University. The fiction translated is from the Spanish "Far South" by Dalmiro A. Saenz, popular and contemporary Argentine writer. The story deals with greed in the complex struggle for survival of three peasants in Argentina's barren Patagonia.

Gafner also has another manuscript pending at "Esquire" magazine.

First Shift Action

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Rookie policeman John Blake was on his first shift here when called into action.

Assisted by two other officers, Blake was credited with his first delivery — a 7-pound, 5 1/2-ounce girl. Mother, baby and Blake were reported doing fine Thursday.

THE "CLOVERETTES," an Indian group from Gladstone, was one of the winners of a trip to the State 4-H Club show in East Lansing Aug. 22-25 in the Activities Day program Thursday at Camp Shaw. Members of the group are, from left, Ruth Martin, Kathy Madden, Kathy Hirt, Cindy and Cheryl LaFleur, and Kris Sjoquist, accompanist. The girls sang a medley of Indian songs. The "Alleycats," also from Gladstone, were chosen to perform at the U. P. State Fair. Demonstration winners from Delta County were: Richard Bero, Cindy LaFleur, Mary Jo DeKeyser, Danny Girard, all from Gladstone; Robert Gibbons, Darnett Pederson and Donna Rasmussen of Ensign; with Nancy Weldum, Rock, selected as alternate Mary Jo DeKeyser and Robert Gibbons were chosen to represent the U. P. in the public speaking competition. Selected to sing in the State 4-H Chorus were Cindy LaFleur, Kathy Hirt, Kris Sjoquist, Kathy Madden, Ruth Martin, Susie Hillman, Beverly Martin and Patsy Meyer from Gladstone and Linda Norlander and June LaCross from Ensign. In land judging, Tom and Clint Safford and Mark Nelson from Ensign will represent the U. P. while Dan Safford and Mark Nelson will be members of the rifle team. (Joseph Heirman Photo)

Goose Season Starting Oct. 1 Asked For U.P.

Opening of the goose season in the Upper Peninsula on Oct. 1, if permitted by federal regulations, and using Oct. 25 as the middle date for determining opening of the duck season have been recommended by the Michigan Conservation Department.

In a memo to the Michigan Conservation Commission, Donald W. Douglas, chief of the department's game division, suggested the Oct. 1 goose season start and a Nov. 30 closing date in the U.P. and the northern Lower Peninsula. The recommended opening date in the southern Lower Peninsula is Oct. 20.

If a duck season of 35 days or less is offered states in the Mississippi Flyway by the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Douglas asked that the Oct. 25 median date be followed throughout the state in determining when to open the duck season. In other words, assuming a 35-day season, Michigan would open duck hunting around Oct. 9, if Douglas' recommendation is followed. He recommended against opening the season on a Saturday or Sunday and favored an 11 a.m. (EDT) start of shooting on the opening day and a sunrise start on the remaining days of the season.

Various options for the 1967 season for geese, ducks and coots will not be received by the states from the federal government until around mid-August, when the conservation commission will make its final determination regarding seasons. Meanwhile, the commission will adopt tentative dates at its monthly meeting in East Lansing next Thursday and Friday.

Last year, Michigan was offered a 45-day duck season with a four-bird bag limit. There were bag restrictions on certain species; for instance, two mallards, two wood ducks and two canvasbacks. The earliest opening date permitted was Saturday, Oct. 8, and the commission elected to open the season on the following Monday. The season closed on Nov. 23.

Whether there will be reductions in bag limits and season length this year is uncertain. However, John S. Gottschalk, director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, said earlier this week that North American's fall flights of major ducks may be less this year than last.

"Late reports from field biologists indicate poor nesting success as a result of spring storms, followed by drought condition over widespread prairie nesting areas," he stated.

An earlier report from the bureau indicated breeding populations, particularly of mallards, were relatively unchanged. But delayed nesting and a drop in water levels indicate fewer mallards, pintails, blue-winged teal and canvasbacks, the bureau says now.

The outlook for geese was brighter. "Geese are an optimistic note at this point," Gottschalk said. "Except for a few flocks, geese flights this fall should be equal to the good flights of 1966 and some are expected to be better."

CCI Seeks Land For Mine Plant

Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. is offering to exchange 122 acres in Houghton and Luce counties for 158 acres of state-owned land in Marquette County that the company wants in connection with its Empire Mine operations.

This is the sixth segment in a series of exchanges between CCI and the Michigan Conservation Department to allow the company to consolidate ownership in the area for low grade iron ore mining and tailings basins for its beneficiation operations.

The desired 158 acres are located in Richmond Township three miles south of the Empire Mine.

The two parcels offered consist of 42 acres in the Mishawic State Forest in Houghton County and 80 acres in the Taquamenon River State Forest in Luce County.

Action on the proposed exchange will be taken by the Michigan Conservation Commission next week. The commission also will act on three other Upper Peninsula land matters:

• A proposal by Rudolph J. Steele, Iron Mountain, to exchange 80 acres in the Sturgeon River deer yard in Dickinson County for 80 acres of state-owned land in the same county. Steele wants to expand his farm.

• A proposal to exchange 234 acres of land owned by the U. S. Forest Service in Marquette County and three downstate counties for 158 acres of state-owned land in Chippewa County for consolidation of ownerships. The Marquette County parcel involved consists of 40 acres in the Escanaba River State Forest.

• Proposed acquisition of land along the East Branch of the Chocoy River by the Conservation Department through an exchange agreement with the Michigan Highway Department.

The land is 70 acres along the north side of the new K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base access road from U. S. 41. The Conservation Department would use the land for public access on the East Branch.

Speech Correction Program Aids 23

POWERS - SPALDING — The Powers Spalding Public School will close its second annual speech correction program this week. Speech therapy was initiated in the summer of 1965 with a federal grant.

The program was offered to all children in the public and parochial school systems who were recommended by their teachers or who were referred by their parents.

Twenty-three children took advantage of the opportunity to attend the four week program which was directed by Miss Leona Dougherty, speech pathologist at Bay de Noc Community College.

She was assisted by Mrs. Jean Albright who had studied principles and methods of speech correction in course work at the college.

Mary Jane Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Schultz is visiting in Australia on a tour of the Southwest Pacific.

Mrs. G. Harold Earle, Mrs. Celia O'Dell, Mrs. Richard Lungenhausen and daughter Katherine are visiting in France while on a tour of Europe.

Recent visitors to Expo '67 in Canada were Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Johnson.

Lester Lausher and son John, Girard Murray, Eddy Arnold and Robert Meintz of Powers enjoyed a fishing trip to Marquette Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sven Anderson and granddaughter Debbie Driftke enjoyed a fishing trip to Northern Canada recently.

Mrs. Olive Beauchamp, Wilson, of the community action agency, will be at the Fire Station Wednesday from 9 a.m. to noon to assist Senior Citizens that need assistance.

HOMECOMING QUEEN of the Escanaba Area Public High School is Miss Shirley Ann Anderson, 17, who is a candidate in the U. P. State Fair queen contest. She is 17, has green eyes and brown hair, and is sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Escanaba. The daughter of Mrs. Catherine M. Anderson, 1115 1st Ave. N., she is studying to become an airline hostess.

Curtis

Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Humphrey Sr. of Curtis and their daughter, Mrs. John Sheppard and sons of Manistique, returned from visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Lyons at St. Johns. They also attended the wedding of their son Delmer Jr. to Miss Cheryl Boise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boise of Grand Ledge, Friday night at St. Gregory's Church with a reception following in Boy Scout Hall at Grand Ledge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gish, visited their parents, Mrs. R. J. Dunkle for a few days. They were returning from a tour in Canada and Alaska to their home in Southfield. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and son of Caledonia visited with relatives here and at Germfask while en route from a visit with relatives in Canada.

Understanding Racism

One of the casualties in Detroit, in Newark, in Cambridge and elsewhere where we have had rioting this summer has been the church. It had little influence with the riotous elements, sharing the ineffectiveness of the local government, of education, of the welfare program and the other influences on society.

But if we are to solve the problem of racism in America we'll not do it without major involvement of the churches, for it is at heart a lack of spirituality; on one side a lack of concern for lowly brothers, on the other hatred.

The churches will concern themselves with the great human problem revealed by the riots. The National Catholic Reporter said this week editorially:

"Racism is not a single simple evil, especially when it is tied to or expressed in a caste system. . . . Racism is in all of us, feebly or strongly alive, so we create or maintain or tolerate a racist society that generates the racism of our future history."

"Events of these hot weeks deepen the wound of centuries. . . . Analysis has begun. Governor Maddox sees Red subversives at work. Governor Reagan wants to seal off his state. The President chides Congress, appoints a committee and asks for prayer. Dwight Eisenhower says: 'I have the utmost sympathy for any person who has never had a decent chance in life. But the fact that society has treated him badly does not give him the right to smash a store window and take what he wants.'"

"What truth there is in such earnest talk is swallowed up in the great emptiness it inhabits: it is such a small part of the truth that needs to be said. What would 'utmost sympathy' do now for those marked in the womb to be losers in our society — excluded and despised? What does a born victim care for the sanctity of plate glass, for the life of the decent fellow in blue who defends with his shield and gun the victimizing system?"

"Having bred men of despair, our society will have to crush them when they act out their hopelessness and hatred. The National Guard must be retrained, police departments must get new men, equipment, techniques. And don't count the cost. Nobody is arguing."

"There is more to be said, but it is hard to say it and harder to get a hearing for it. President Johnson tried. Study the causes. Work for education, jobs, housing. Search our hearts and pray for light."

"But the President didn't have the priorities right. The message spoken by the riot has not come through to Mr. Johnson and it therefore will probably not be heard by the country. Once he announced the Decent Society, that we have not chosen to do so. Congress will not hear the message of the riots because it does not come from lovable people. . . . but from alienated men, erratic and unbalanced, monsters of a diseased, romantic, shallow rebellion — our creations."

"The President cannot hear the message because achievement of a decent society asks an effort of leadership which a merely decent man of populist instincts cannot give. The scope of the reversal required is incompatible with the President's commitment to a dubious and confused crusade across the Pacific. . . . The riots are tragedy enough. The tragedy to come may be worse. The alienated ones are only a minority within a minority and we can eliminate them. But even if Germany had won, the message of Dachau would be the same."

Sorrow, With Pride

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Thousands of children were born deaf or very hard of hearing as a result of the nationwide German measles epidemic a few years back.

The whole country was hit hard. It isn't even known how many deaf and extremely hard-of-hearing youngsters enter school and fail their subjects. Teachers think of them as retarded. No one realizes their handicap.

The recognized ones are the lucky ones. Our youngest son, Johnny, is one of these. His mother had German measles late in her third month of pregnancy. He has virtually no hearing in one ear and an extreme hearing loss in the other. The thing that most worried his wife, Helen Sue, was that Johnny might not grow up to live a normal life — that he would be a "handicapped" person. She knew that this did not have to be — because Johnny is sharp as a whip. He catches on quickly — solves problems readily. But at the age of almost three, his vocabulary, despite seven months of special schooling, is around 40 to 50 words.

A child with normal hearing at that age has hundreds of words in his vocabulary and understands several times as many more.

Through Johnny, Helen Sue became dedicated to making certain that as many as possible of these boys and girls could grow up to live normal lives.

She was shy. But in this she had determination. The Children's Hospital Hearing and Speech Center in Washington, D. C., is doing some remarkable experimental work. In Arlington, Va., they have enthusiastically led supplementary programs for hard-of-hearing children in elementary schools. In Fairfax, Va., the Health Department and the school system are working with children aged 2 to 6 in an imaginative preschool program. There's also work going on in Maryland.

But these programs are highly experimental. There are strong differences of opinion. No one is certain of the best ed.

Iron Mt. Recalls Last Mine Closing

By E. O. ERICKSON
Of Panax Newspapers

IRON MOUNTAIN—This city born of iron ore 88 years ago, on Aug. 1, had an anniversary it doesn't like to remember — the abrupt end 35 years ago of a long and rich underground mining era that shocked and rocked the community residents.

It was in the depth of the great national economic depression only days before the hungry and battered veterans to World War I marched on Washington demanding a bonus for serving in the war. It was only days after a $500,000 fire leveled the Sawyer-Goodman sawmill and wiped out Sagala's only industry.

It was Aug. 1, 1932, one of the blackest days in Iron Mountain history — the day the Oliver Mining Co. announced that the fabulous Chapin Mine would close permanently.

For the 500 employees it meant joining the relief line already long with victims of the depression. Although some optimistic civic leaders, said the Chapin Mine would be only a temporary "sleeping giant," it turned out to be the federal requirement for the underground mining era of Iron Mountain. It was the last underground operation in the history of Iron Mountain, which was born with the opening of the Chapin Mine in 1879.

The Chapin Mine was one of the biggest iron ore producers in the history of the Upper Peninsula. At one time, Dickinson County had 38 producing iron mines, but the Chapin was the grand-daddy of them all. From 1880 to 1932, when it stopped shipping, the Chapin produced 27,506,868 tons of iron ore, or one-third of the entire county production.

The only operation in the Upper Peninsula which surpassed the Chapin was the Norrie-Aurora-Pabst at Ironwood, which shipped over 53 million tons from 1885 to 1935.

The closing of the mine resulted in the creation of the twin lakes on both sides of Stoughton Ave., then called the Chapin pit. The pit area, once level and occupied by homes and mining buildings, began a slow sinking in 1885. All the buildings were removed. The Chapin pit created the downtown-north side boundary line.

Discovered by Dr. Hulst

The mine closed in 1932 and the pumps ceased operating, the water level in the mine rose steadily and eventually created the two small lakes in the middle of the city.

Dr. N. P. Hulst, a Milwaukee mining engineer, discovered the Chapin ore body. He made his first visit to this area in 1873. On another trip he discovered the Chapin deposit and on July 4, 1879, Capt. John Wicks worked under Dr. Hulst, and seven men left Quincy in a wagon drawn by four mules and started digging at Dr. Hulst's new discovery. In those days, this area was known only as "Section 30," and later was named Iron Mountain because the rolling hills were believed filled with "mountains of iron," which proved true.

Almost overnight, the Chapin Mine became one of the richest iron ore operations in the world. In a short time Iron Mountain became the booming town in the Upper Peninsula. At the peak of the big mining boom in about 1890, 2,400 men were employed in mining and construction at the Chapin.

"Payroll City of North" In 1890, Iron Mountain had a population of 9,500, which is almost exactly its population today. It was referred to as the memento while West thought "Payroll City of North." It was wild and woolly, not any better or worse than the others, but just as bad. The city had 65 saloons and the most notorious part of the city was the "Midway," three blocks of West Hought St., where the favorite past-time in the saloons and bawdy houses was "rolling" miners and lumberjack for their pay-day bundles.

By the early 1900s, the Chapin was operating on nine different levels and was mining three different grades of ore from four different fees. Seventy-five per cent was high grade ore and the remainder low grade. It was reported to be the deepest iron mine in the world, going down over a mile below surface. The Chapin at its peak had over 10 miles of active underground openings.

The mine had four miles of electric trolley lines with the longest haul over 3,000 feet. Fifteen electric locomotives were used underground on four different levels using over 250 mine cars. Thousands of feet of wooden and steel ladders were used.

The Chapin Mine was an unusually wet mine and each day the mine pumps took out 4-189,000 gallons of water, or something like 3,400 gallons a minute. The mine had enough water to supply a town with a population five times that of Iron Mountain.

The Chapin Mine in 1923 employed about 750 men and with the closing in 1932 only 500 employees were left. Ford Plant Took Up Slack Even in 1932 the Chapin still had a huge reserve of rich ore.

Thirty years ago one of the most popular fancy bids was to bid one of your worst major suit when your partner's opening minor suit bid was doubled by the next player. You reserved this bid for a bad hand. There is no point confusing your partner when you have a good hand.

The bid has gone out of style. Opponents learned how to take care of it and partners didn't learn to watch for it. East was an old-timer playing rubber bridge with a bunch of youngsters. The sixth annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Golf Association will be held at the Pine Grove Golf Club in Iron Mountain on Aug. 9, 10 and 11. Representatives from nine golf clubs in the Upper Peninsula are registered to compete. The only Escanaba club to be represented at the tournament will be the Bay View Golf Club.

Eight Escanaba men, members of the Game & Gun Club, went to Marquette to compete in the annual trapshooting tournament. They were E. C. Vought, C. W. Kates, H. C. Brotherton, C. H. Henderson, G. R. Stegath, W. J. Fox, J. B. Lindsey and E. T. McCarthy.

Questions And Answers

Q—What is a gandy dancer?

A—Any worker in a railroad section gang. One theory of the origin of his colorful name is that it may have originated from the gander-like tremulations of a man tampering ties.

Q—What does UNICEF stand for?

A—United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Q—What fish builds a nest?

A—The four-spined stickleback builds a nest much the way a bird does. The male, with the aid of a sticky, threadlike secretion from the kidney, weaves portions of water plants into a sort of basket, using growing stalks as the framework.

Q—To what extent does human skin vary in thickness?

A—It is from one-sixteenth of an inch to one-eighth of an inch thick. It is thickest on the back and thinnest on the eyelids.

Q—What was the weight of the first satellite put in orbit by the United States?

A—Explorer I, launched Jan. 31, 1958, weighed 30.8 pounds.

Q—What is the height of Mt. Everest?

A—Its height is now generally accepted to be 29,028 feet.

Ann Landers

Tell The Guy: Move Out! Make It Stick

Dear Ann Landers: Your definition of a "Methodist handshake" brought back some wonderful memories.

Many years ago, when I was sweet 16, a handsome chap who was a couple of years older, asked me to go to the downtown recreation center. (In those days, this was considered a very special date.)

We played table tennis, did a little imitation tap dancing, and harmonized with the piano player who had a handbell melody. After a strawberry soda, we waltzed to phonograph music and called it the end of a wonderful evening. He took me home on the streetcar and I was in seventh heaven.

When we reached the front door he asked if he could kiss me good night. I replied, "No. My mother wouldn't think it was very ladylike."

He looked at me in astonishment and asked, "What kind of a mother do you have, anyway?" I replied, "My mother is a Methodist." He smiled and answered, "O.K., then. Give me a Methodist handshake."

I shook his hand and shut the door. We moved away slowly after that and I never saw him again, but I will always remember that wonderful "Methodist handshake." I had not heard the expression in 40 years and then it popped up in your column—so thanks, for reminding some beautiful memories.—OHIO

Dear Ohio: Thank you for a delightful letter. If more 1967 evenings ended with a Methodist handshake my mail would be a lot lighter.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a woman in my middle 20's who learned awfully late what life was all about.

Last winter I became ill and lost my job. A man I knew slightly took an interest in me. He helped out with the rent, paid my doctor bills and brought me groceries.

Gradually we drifted into an intimate relationship. He moved in and we are now living together. This man is everything I want in a husband. I love him very much and he says he loves me, whenever I mention marriage he says he can't afford it.

How can I get him to make this arrangement legal? I want a family. — WIFE WITH NO NAME

Hairnets Ordered On Hippy Waiters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hairnets for long-tressed waiters in the hippie Haight-Ashbury district were ordered as a sanitary precaution by the city Health Department.

Present law makes only specific references to female restaurant employees, said Public Health Director Ellis D. Sox, but the present situation presents a problem the legislature didn't count on.

"Any person with long hair is likely to get some of the strands in food," Sox said. "We will require nets or some other confining method irrespective of the sex of the individual."

Guardsmen Return With Tales Of Violence

Detroit Riot Snipers Used Machine Guns

By DAVE ANDREWS

A part of the horror of Detroit came to Delta County Friday with the return to Gladstone of over 100 National Guardsmen who were thrown into combat in the Motor City.

"It was just like Vietnam," said Capt. George Anderson, commander of Company E, 107th Engineers.

"There was a regular battle one night. They were shooting at us with automatic weapons and we were shooting back. We finally stopped it by sending an armored personnel carrier down the street, but not before they had set fire to a house and fled."

Amid the kisses from wives and sweethearts and the civic horn tooting, the stories of 102 men of the 107th Engineers and the 1437th Float Bridge Company began to surface from the worst racial explosion in the history of the United States.

Damage estimates range in the $500 millions. 44 persons are dead and a great part of Michigan's largest city lies in ruins, looted and burned to the ground. The city is just now returning to "normal" from its siege of military occupation.

"It's great to be back," the guardsmen said Friday. "It was bad, real bad."

"You know you're in trouble when you're pinned down for over a half hour in the street by machine gun fire," said Sgt. Jim Moyle of Escanaba, a member of the 1437th. "He was firing from a railroad trestle, but after a while he stopped. He must have ran out of ammunition. I know we didn't get him."

Snipers with machine guns, he was asked.

"They had everything," Moyle replied. "Machine guns, sawed off shotguns, rifles and firebombs. It was like war."

Sgt. Wayne Berthume of Escanaba, who had a wife and son, Randy, 13 months, waiting at home who didn't have any idea when he left that a two-week exercise at summer camp would turn into a "play for keeps" assignment in Detroit, said the units were federalized on Sunday and he was shipped to the 10th police precinct—an area in the heart of the trouble zone.

"We had orders to shoot to kill," he said.

On patrol and guard duty, men were armed with rifles with fixed bayonets. Most of the men were forced to use them.

Pfc. Joe Vogel of Escanaba said "the place was like an inferno" as looters first stripped stores, then set them on fire.

"You know what the fastest thing in the world is?" Pfc. Gary Smith of Marquette asked rhetorically. "A Negro on 12th St. after 9 o'clock with a color television under his arm."

"The second fastest thing is a guardsman dashing for cover. We sure learned how to hit the dirt."

There were stories of an attack on the command post in the 2nd police precinct with snipers firing from all sides and police officers and national guardsmen firing from the front door.

Capt. Anderson said there were snipers all over the area and guardsmen rode armed guard with fire trucks and utility repairmen to give them protection.

"We had had some training on riot control, breaking up mobs and things, like that," Anderson continued, "but this was different."

"There were looters everywhere. Stores like our Red Owl store in Escanaba were completely cleaned out, stripped. What they didn't take they tipped over and smashed."

"I'm real proud of our men, though. Some of them are awful young and this was their first trip across the straits. They performed real well under extremely hazardous conditions."

Anderson said most of the men slept in a high school and in the 2nd police precinct, but "if they got four hours of sleep a night they were lucky." As the pressure eased, the men were placed on a "six hours on, six hours off" schedule.

One young soldier told of sleeping under a bush with his helmet on.

Anderson said the units left Camp Grayling Friday morning about 4 o'clock for the return trip home—three weeks after the units had begun packing for a two-week camp. They began arriving in Gladstone to a horn-tooting reception at the public fishing site shortly after 11 a.m.

Included in the welcoming party were Gladstone Mayor Raymond Norton, who initiated the public turnout, Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistique and Escanaba Councilman Cecil Chase. More well-wishers joined the crowd at the Gladstone Armory on Delta Ave.

The men were dismissed Friday afternoon after gear had been stowed and weapons cleaned. Most indicated a night of celebrating was coming up.

"We've been planning this for a week," one said.

The celebration can't last too long, though, for the men of Company E.

"There's a drill schedule Monday night at 7:30," Anderson said. "Right here at the Armory."

It couldn't happen to a more deserving bunch of fellows.

Russians Duck Asian Scholars' Ann Arbor Meet

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Russian scholars will not attend the International Orientalists Congress to be held in Ann Arbor Aug. 13 through Aug. 20, the Soviet Government announced in Moscow Friday.

Sixty Soviet orientalists had been scheduled to come to the United States. Friday's announcement said they decided against it because international tensions would prevent a number of Asian and African countries from being represented.

The tensions were described as resulting from "the recent escalation of the U.S. war in Vietnam and Israel's aggression against Arab countries."

A University of Michigan spokesman said Asian scholars from more than 40 countries were expected at the congress and that U. Thant, Secretary-General of the United Nations was to give a key speech Aug. 18.

Clarence Randall Dies In Ishpeming

ISHPEMING — Clarence B. Randall, 76, former president and chairman of the board of directors of Inland Steel Co., died here Friday night in Bell Memorial Hospital. He was stricken Tuesday night at his cottage on Lake Michigan.

Born Mar. 5, 1891 in Newark Valley, N.Y., he was graduated from Harvard Law School and practiced law in Ishpeming in 1915-17 and 1919-25 when he joined Inland Steel Co. as assistant vice president. He was elected president in 1949 and chairman of the board in 1953, serving until 1956.

Besides being a successful industrialist, he was eminent as an author and lecturer and had served the U.S. government and education in positions of high responsibility. In 1956-61 he was special assistant to the President in matter of foreign economic policy and he was chairman of the Council on Foreign Economic Policy.

He is survived by his daughters, Mrs. Lemuel Hunter of Winnetka, Ill., and Mrs. J. Gordon Gilley of LaGrange,

Three Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Three persons, including a child who ran in front of a car in Ludington Park, were injured in traffic accidents within the past 24 hours, city police report.

Laurie Pascoe, 7, of 2138 24th Ave. S., suffered severe abrasions and contusions when she was struck by a car driven by Edward A. O'Leary, 47, of 303 Stephenson Ave. She was treated at St. Francis Hospital and released.

The accident occurred at the bridge on the beach road in Ludington Park at 3:43 p.m. Friday.

Robert H. Nelson, 18, of Bark River Rte. 1, and Fred Knauf, 88, of 1714 10th Ave. S., were injured in a collision of two cars at 10th Ave. S. and 11th St. at 7:51 a.m. today. They were treated at the hospital and released.

The drivers were Nelson and Ray R. Tessmer, Grosse Pointe, Mich. Mr. Knauf was a passenger in the Tessmer car.

Until the invention of the locomotive, the horse was man's fastest means of transportation.

Postage Short A Penny

Forrestal Sailor Saved By Letter

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP) — "I don't think I'll ever put the right postage on a letter again," said 18-year-old Gloria Frye. "And I'll never sell a penny short."

The lack of an extra one-cent stamp on a letter from Miss Frye to her sailor boyfriend Mike Forrestal, aboard the carrier Mike Forrestal is credited with saving his life when the ship was wrecked by explosions and fire last Saturday.

"I can't believe the letter actually saved his life," Gloria said in an interview, "but it really doesn't matter. The important thing is that he's alive."

Gloria said she and Mike, 19, of Pueblo, Colo., plan to become engaged next summer.

Mike told how the letter saved his life in a telephone conversation Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Bud Collette of Pueblo.

He said he was informed in his compartment Saturday that a letter had arrived for him at the ship's post office but there was a penny postage due.

Mike said he went to get the letter and as he started back to his compartment, the first explosion rocked the ship, killing all of the occupants of his compartment. Mike escaped with a shoulder bruise.

Gloria, a secretary for a Marshalltown trucking firm, said she can't understand why the postage on the letter was insufficient.

"I write him every day, sometimes twice a day, and always put the same postage on the letter," she said. "But I guess this letter was longer than usual, about 14 pages. I had had some problems I wanted to discuss with him. I guess my problems saved his life."

Gloria said she met Mike in the summer of 1964 when she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Clifford E. Frye, lived in Grand Junction, Colo.

She last saw Mike in May when he was on leave, and she hopes he will get another leave when the carrier is returned to the United States for repairs.

Gloria, a pert blonde, was runnerup and Miss Congeniality in the recent Miss Marshall County beauty contest.

Freeway Crash Kills 5 Children

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) — A flatbed truck carrying a YMCA youngsters' club home from a day on a Pacific Ocean beach somersaulted out of control Friday on the Nimitz Freeway, killing five and injuring 65 others.

Larry Fink, newly sworn in California High Patrol officer who saw the accident, declared: "I didn't realize how bad it was until I got up to the cab of the truck and all I saw was a mound of bodies."

Fink, working with fatalities for the first time, radioed for "all the ambulances you've got" and then with others broke out first-aid kits and started loading youngsters into passing cars that took them to hospitals.

The patrolman said the north-bound truck veered to the right and then to the left onto a 40-foot wide strip that divides the four-lane freeway. As the truck hit the center strip, he said, it somersaulted, finally landing on its side.

The Associated Press counted at least five persons in the early hours of this first weekend in August. Two died when their cars struck parked trucks on freeways.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Latest reported victims were: Douglas Burnett, 23, Diamondale, who was killed Saturday when his car ran off a road in Eaton County and hit a truck on U. S. 27 about 14 miles south of Lansing.

William Rosekrans, 44, Auburn, died Saturday when his auto struck the rear of a parked truck on U. S. 10 near the Waldo Road overpass in Bay County.

Illness Claims Kris Erickson

Kris Reynold Erickson, 11, Rte. 1, Bark River, died early Friday afternoon at his home following a lengthy illness.

Kris Erickson was born April 28, 1956, in Escanaba and was a member of Boy Scout Troop 446, Salem Lutheran Sunday School and was a sixth grade student at Bark River-Harris Elementary School.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Erickson, one sister, Karen, and one brother, Karl; his maternal and paternal grandparents of Bark River, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bolm and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Erickson. His great-grandmother, Mrs. Oscar Bolm of Gladstone, Rte. 1, also survives.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Chapel from 3 to 9:30 p.m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 at the chapel and 2 p.m. at the Salem Lutheran Church in Bark River. Rev. Charles Beckingham will officiate. Burial will be in the Bark River Cemetery.

Eisenhower III; Flown To Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, stricken ill at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, was flown by helicopter to Walter Reed hospital today.

The 76-year-old five-star general arrived at the hospital shortly before noon, clad in pajamas and bathrobe.

There was no immediate word on the nature of his ailment.

Eisenhower was helped from the helicopter by a hospital aide and walked from the landing pad to a nearby car for the short trip to the hospital.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Lions Club will hold a golf outing at Highland Golf Club Monday. Dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Another golf event is being planned for Thursday, Aug. 17, with Lions from Delta County at the Gladstone Golf Club.

A spare tire, found in the 400 block S. 10th St., by Robert Nelson of 411 S. 10th St., has been turned over to police. The owner may claim it at the police station.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Harold LaChapelle, 308 N. 21st St., for defective lights and no proof of insurance; and to Frederick N. Deno, 214 N. 14th St., speeding.

Alice Baldwin Dies In Florida

Mrs. Alice Forbes Baldwin, the wife of Dr. Paul E. Baldwin, formerly of Escanaba, died Aug. 4 at Port Charlotte, Fla.

Mrs. Baldwin was the sister-in-law of the late Ted Baldwin of Escanaba and as Alice Forbes was the author of a number of published works. Funeral services and burial will be in Pontiac, Ill., her birthplace.

Butter, Cheese Production Off

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's milk handlers processed 4.6 million pounds of milk in 1966, down 7 per cent from the 4.9 million pounds processed in 1965, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service said Friday. Butter production was 30.5 million pounds, down less than 1 per cent, while 36.4 million pounds of cheese produced was 3 per cent below the 1965 figure.

Lady Godiva No Nude; That Is Naked Truth

COVENTRY, England (AP) — The naked truth about Lady Godiva is that she didn't ride nude through the streets of Coventry, says a report prepared for the 900th anniversary of her death.

To help commemorate the anniversary, Sept. 9, the Coventry City Council asked Joan Lancaster and Dr. Hilda Davidson to write a book. Miss Lancaster, formerly the city's archivist, is now archivist for Britain's Commonwealth Relations Office.

"Lady Godiva may have ridden in a beggar's garb on a horse without a saddle," she says. "But we feel strongly that she would not ride around naked in the 11th century. That sort of thing just would not happen."

She said she has studied ancient documents that say only that "Lady Godiva was stripped of all signs of her rank—not that she was stripped naked, or that she was stripped."

Dr. Davidson, a former university lecturer, observed: "The story of the ride has been exaggerated until people accept that she did ride around naked."

Lady Godiva's ride was supposed to have been in protest against cruel taxes laid on the people by her husband Leofric.

ROME, (AP) — After a week of working nearly nude in a high wind with 2,000 birds across Jane Fonda wound up in bed today running a temperature.

Doctors didn't know whether it was a virus she might have caught from the birds.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Frank Sinatra, who has been barred from Mexico for more than a year because a movie he made assertedly disparaged the country and its people, will be allowed to re-enter, the government announced Friday.

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — William Wallace of Houston, Tex., celebrated his solo crossing of the Atlantic in his fiberglass boat by strolling into a pub Friday and downing a pint of beer.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Triplets are getting together Sunday to observe their 80th birthdays. They are Mrs. Tom Clay of Lubbock, Mrs. Cora Comer of Plainview and G.C. Adams of Ardmore, Okla.

Both Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Comer are mother of twins.

The Spanish Sahara is a 102,703-square-mile desert enclave between Morocco and Mauritania.

"There is no real evidence to suggest that any protest took place," said Miss Lancaster. "If she did ride through the streets it is much more likely that she was 'stripped' of all signs of rank to associate with the common people."

If the two ladies are right, the world owes an apology to the original Peeping Tom. A Coventry tailor named Tom is supposed to have been the only citizen who peeped at her ladyship on her ride.

gro children to hate white people.

He told the Judiciary Committee that funds have been allocated for that school program, and a contract has been signed—but if it teaches race hatred no money will go to it.

Made Mistakes, he acknowledged, and cited as one of them a transaction which put the Nashville chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee in possession of a new station wagon leased by the local poverty agency.

"I'm very concerned that the poverty program go on when it is well administered, because this can be the solution to the problem of riots," said the Rev. Mr. Davis, a soft-spoken, gray-haired man in Episcopal clerical attire. Once a Wall Street lawyer, he said he turned to the ministry seven years ago.

The clergyman, who heads the Nashville Metropolitan Action Commission, flew to Washington to insist before the Judiciary Committee that his agency has provided no poverty money to a "Liberation School" directed by Fred H. Brooks, the city SNCC chairman.

Charge Hatred Taught Nashville Police Capt. John A. Sorace testified Wednesday that $7,700 in federal funds supplied by the Office of Economic Opportunity is supporting the school. Sorace said it teaches racial hatred.

"No money has been given to that school as yet," the Rev. Mr. Davis testified. "No money will be given until we have an opportunity to investigate."

And he said if Sorace's testimony about the school is found to be true, it will get no poverty-fighting money.

The clergyman-chairman said that probably will be the outcome.

"The money has been allocated to our program," he acknowledged. "We are involved in a certain way—we have a contract with them."

The clergyman said the contract is not with Brooks, but with St. Anselm's Episcopal Chapel, where the school operates.

Reporter Says Mamie Is Witty And Warm

By BARBARA WALTERS

For Cynthia Lowry
NEW YORK (AP) — When I was first promoted from a behind-the-camera writer on the show to an in-front-of-the-camera broadcaster, I used to say that I loved the job so much that I would do it for nothing.

I still feel that way except that my business manager has advised me that it is foolhardy, to say that publicly, especially as my contract is up for renegotiation.

But I cannot underestimate the pleasures of my job, of working daily with Hugh Downs, whom I could not possibly like or respect more, of traveling all over the world, of meeting the most creative and influential people of our time.

I arise every weekday at 4:40 a.m. I have not gotten used to the hours, but I have never overslept. I dress in the dark in clothes I have laid out the night before so as not to awaken my husband. I am in the studio by 5:30 to have my hair set, my face made up and to rehearse commercials. The rest of the program is unrehearsed.

I'm often asked which interview I enjoyed most.

It is very hard to pick one from the list of prominent people who have appeared on "Today," but I think Mamie Eisenhower might be pretty close to the top of my list. Perhaps because I could not remember anyone having interviewed her before, and I had heard that she was shy of reporters.

Instead, interviewing General Eisenhower and her at Gettysburg on their 50th wedding anniversary, I found her to be not only warm and witty but above all considerate.

It was a tortuously hot summer day and I was the only female reporter present. Mrs. Eisenhower spotted me immediately and invited me inside the cool house for iced tea and a long chat.

Nor did she neglect the male reporters. Out to them, talking with the general, went ice cold soft drinks.

I have often felt that if there had been a female television reporter in Washington during President Eisenhower's terms of office, we would all have known Mamie Eisenhower much better.

All-Star Defense Riddled By Starr As Packers Win Chicago Grid Clash, 27-0

CHICAGO (AP) — Bart Starr had only a half interest in the 34th college All-Star game Friday night but that's all it took for the Green Bay passing master to cool off a fired-up All-Star defense and pace the professional champions to a 27-0 triumph.

Starr, facing a strong collegiate rush, put the Packer running game in cold storage in the first half but chilled the All-Stars with 15 completions for 212 yards and two touchdowns before retiring to the sidelines at the halftime.

The lanky Alabamian, who directed the Packers to a Super Bowl victory last season, used six different receivers to flood the collegiate defense, then ignored the long strike and picked apart the shallow secondary.

The Green Bay quarterback was surprised early in the game when Bubba Smith, Michigan State's mammoth end, broke through and pinned him for a 10-yard loss.

Starr dusted himself off and completed three straight passes to the All-Star 13-yard line, where Don Chandler kicked a field goal.

Three plays later, Steve Spurrier, the Heisman Trophy winning quarterback from Florida who started the game for the collegians, fumbled and when the rugged star defense stopped the Green Bay running game, Chandler kicked his second field goal.

In the second quarter, Starr began testing the collegiate secondary and he found it wanting. The Packers drove 61 yards in eight plays with Starr hitting Boyd Dowler with an 11-yard touchdown strike.

The All-Star offense, loaded with highly regarded running backs, was held in check by the impenetrable Packer forward wall.

Coach John Sauer shuttled Spurrier and Bob Griese of Purdue in and out of the lineup, but neither could find the passing magic to loosen the Green Bay defense.

Midway in the second quarter, Starr hung out three completions bringing the Packers to the All-Star 21, then found Bob Long all alone in the right corner of the end zone for a touchdown.

Zeke Bratkowski relieved Starr for the second half, and though he completed eight of 11 passes the All-Stars were able to contain the Packers in the third quarter. But again the Packer defense yielded little to the collegiate attempts.

Jim Grabowski, last year's prize rookie from Illinois who was on duty with the National Guard in Milwaukee, Wis., joined Green Bay shortly before the game and stamped himself as an appropriate heir to the fullback position where Jim Taylor once reigned.

Grabowski sparked the Packers in the second half, gaining 53 yards in seven carries, including a 22-yard touchdown sprint through the middle of the All-Star defense in the final period. He was the game's leading rusher with 77 yards in nine carries.

Baseball Gets Record Payoff For TV Rights

CHICAGO (AP) — Organized baseball, confident it could command a record price, got what it asked for—a record $50 million television contract with the National Broadcasting Co.

Agreement on the three-year contract, which will run from 1969 through 1971, came Friday at a day-long negotiating session between baseball's television committee and NBC officials.

The current contract is worth about $36 million.

The agreement gives NBC continued rights to the World Series, All-Star games and the Game of the Week, a series that includes 28 weekly telecasts a season.

Each major league team is expected to participate in the Game of the Week series, which is worth about $300,000 a team under the current pact.

Philadelphia is the only team now out of the series.

Bruce Maher

Lions Are Back On Right Track, Maher Believes

DETROIT (AP) — Bruce Maher, sweating and puffing, said the Detroit Lions are on the way back from problems they brought on themselves.

"This team once upon a time you could treat like men," the defensive back said. "Now we have to earn it back. Now we've got to prove ourselves."

"But we brought it on ourselves," he said.

He said the new coach, former star linebacker Joe Schmidt, "has put us back on the right track. He's got strict rules and gradually we're getting it back. Pride is coming back. Eventually we'll get confidence."

"We've got to get individual pride first, then team pride. Then confidence. That will come with victories," said the blond, 5-11, 190-pound veteran.

Maher, 29, a former University of Detroit star, said he expects the team to be vastly improved this year over last year's 4-9-1 record.

"The offense is a lot better," he said. "Both quarterbacks are throwing real well."

Maher said the team "is in better shape and a lot sharper than we were at this time last year. In fact, we're sharper than we were last year during the season."

"We're getting concentration this year. Mental discipline as well as physical. That lack of mental discipline can kill you in a football game, but we're getting it back," he said.

Harry Gilmer, the coach fired after last year's dismal season, blamed several losses on lack of mental discipline.

"That lack of mental discipline shows up both ways," Maher said. "If they make a mistake on offense, you lose a down and maybe lose yardage instead of getting six points."

"If you make a mistake on defense, it shows up right away. Six points for them."

But Maher said he felt this won't be a bad season. "We're as good as any team in the league physically. When we get confidence again, not just confidence that we can win, but that we can win when things are going bad for us, then we'll be a great team again."

He trudged slowly away from the practice field at suburban Cranbrook School. "If hard work and discipline can do it," he said, "We're well on our way."

Indian Ambush Rips Detroit Tigers 11-5

CLEVELAND (AP) — The bubble burst for Detroit Tiger pitcher Johnny Podres Friday night.

Podres, used mostly as a relief pitcher, made a rare starting appearance and hardly worked up a sweat. He gave up four hits and five runs in the first inning and a leadoff single in the second inning before Dave Wickersham replaced him.

Cleveland galloped to an 11-5 victory.

The Tigers started off in great style. Don Wert and Dick McAuliffe singled in succession and Al Kaline bloomed a double, scoring Wert. But then the Tiger bats fell silent. Willie Horton popped out, Bill Freehan walked, but Mickey Stanley struck out and Jim Price popped out.

Cleveland came right back with a walk and a single. Then Don Demeter doubled and Duke Sims homered. Vern Fuller followed with another homer.

The Indians scored again in the third on a double, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly.

Hank Aguirre took over the round for Detroit in the fourth and allowed just one base runner in two innings. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth, when the Tigers almost made a game of it with four runs.

Horton led off with a single. Freehan flied out, but Stanley walked. Price laid down a sacrifice bunt. Ray Oyler followed with a double that scored Horton and Stanley. Jim Landis followed with a pinch-hit home run.

But the Tigers scored no more and Cleveland got two in the seventh off Fred Gladding and three in the eighth off John Hiller.

Detroit's best late-inning chance came in the seventh, but Norm Cash took a third strike with two out and two on.

Pistons Sign Dave Bing To 2 Year Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Guard Dave Bing, rookie of the year in the National Basketball Association last season, signed a two-year contract Thursday with the Detroit Pistons. Bing, who was the team's top scorer with an average of 20 points per game, received a "very substantial raise," according to a Pistons spokesman.

He was believed to have signed for between $25,000 and $30,000 a year.

He was the 10th Piston to sign for the coming season. The only veteran still unsigned was Reggie Harding.

The Pistons said they will play 32 games at home during the 1967-68 National Basketball Association season, opening their season against the Cincinnati Royals at Cobo Arena Oct. 17.

Babe Ruth Sets Playoff Plans

Babe Ruth League action next week includes two make-up games and a playoff for the league championship. If Mead Paper defeats Teamsters Union Local 328 on Tuesday, Mead will qualify for the playoff along with U.A.W.-C.I.O. 632 and either Kiwanis or Insurance, depending on the outcome of Monday's game. Drawing for the playoff would then be held immediately after Tuesday's contest.

If Teamsters eliminates Mead the drawings will not be necessary. U.A.W.-C.I.O. 632 would meet the winner of the Kiwanis-Insurance game for the league championship on Wednesday night.

The tentative schedule follows:

Monday — Kiwanis Club at Insurance Agents Assn.

Tuesday — Mead Paper at Teamsters Union Local 328.

Wednesday — Team No. 1 vs. Team No. 2 in first playoff game.

Thursday — Team No. 3 vs. winner of Wednesday's game (if necessary).

Loss To Twins Drops Red Sox Farther Behind

By The Associated Press

It's not that Jim Merritt is anti-social, you understand. It's just that he's more comfortable when he pitches without company from the other team.

Merritt had plenty of visitors on the basepaths in the first four innings of Friday night's game against Boston but hung out to enjoy the solitude that developed after that in Minnesota's 3-0 victory over the Red Sox.

The left-hander struggled through the early innings, then took control, allowing only one base runner in the last five innings and picked up his eighth victory and third shutout of the season.

The defeat dropped the second place Sox 2 1/2 games back of the Chicago White Sox who were rained out at Baltimore. In other American League action Kansas City shaded New York 2-1, Cleveland battered Detroit 11-5, and California squeezed past Washington 5-4.

Boston got one runner to third and three more to second in the early innings against Merritt as two Minnesota errors put him in hot water.

But the lanky southpaw threaded his way out each time and lowered his earned run average to 2.06—best among American League starters. He allowed only one hit in the last six innings.

Two of the Twins' three runs were unearned as Boston's infield committed three errors. Tony Oliva doubled one run across in the first, and Minnesota had the bases loaded with none out against Darrell Brandon. But Bob Allison and Zoilo Versalles struck out before Ted Uhlaender walked, forcing in the second run of the inning.

Allison doubled and pinch runner Sandy Valdespino scampered home with an insurance run in the seventh when Mike Andrews booted Versalles' grounder.

Danny Cater made a circus catch with the bases loaded and two out in the eighth inning, preserving Kansas City's victory over New York.

Two singles and a walk had loaded the bases, and Bill Robinson tagged a shot deep to left field. But Cater raced back, leaped against the wall and grabbed the ball.

California reliever Minnie Rojas choked off a late Washington rally and held the Senators at bay for his 17th save of the season.

Ken McMullen slammed a pair of homers and drove in all four runs for the Senators.

Woodie Held's bases-loaded double delivered three runs for the Angels and Don Mincher cracked his 17th home run of the year.

Have-Nots Set Western Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — The have-nots of golf's golden tournament are making a strong run for the $20,000 first prize of the Western Open.

At the start of today's third round over Beverly's par-em-battered layout, Labron Harris, son of the Oklahoma State golf coach and 1962 National Amateur champion, led with an eight-under-par 134. In two rounds he has 18 one-putt greens.

Bob Stanton, 21-year-old Australian, and Terry Dill of Austin, Tex., were at 137. South African Bob Verwey and Steve Oppermann, 1964 Western Amateur titlist, were locked at 138.

Harris shot a 68 in Friday's second round, Stanton a 71, Dill a 66, Verwey a 72 and Oppermann a 71.

New York Mets Suffer Costly Double Defeat

By The Associated Press

The New York Mets, unhappily settling ever deeper into the National League cellar, suffered a double defeat Friday night.

Not only were they beaten 3-0 by San Francisco, the Mets also lost their own personal patsy and it might be a long time before they find one to replace him.

Giants' pitcher Ray Sadecki, had somehow not managed to beat the Mets for more than three years—surely a record of sorts—before Friday's victory, and had been chased in each of his previous eight starts against them.

That situation was abruptly terminated when in 8 1/3 innings he gave up just six hits before getting some last-minute help in mopping up the Mets from Frank Lundy. It was the left-hander's first victory in nearly a month and dropped the Mets 2 1/2 games off the pace.

Sadecki broke his jinx against the Mets by slowing down on the mound.

"I usually get out there and work too fast," he said. "It's a big problem of mine. But catcher Tom Haller comes out and talks to me and won't give me that ball, so I have to slow down."

St. Louis moved seven games ahead of Chicago in the National League race, with Larry Jaster mowing down Cincinnati on four hits. The Cards scored all their runs in the sixth inning. Lou Brock doubling in two of them.

Dick Ellsworth stopped the Astros on seven hits, completing his first game since April as the Phillies struck for 16 hits. Don Lock hit a three-run homer, and Johnny Briggs had four hits. Rich Allen drove in two runs and had three hits.

Denis Menke had four hits and Joe Torre three as the Braves presented the Cubs with their sixth defeat in their last seven games. Pat Jarvis, 12-4, was the winning pitcher.

Jim LeFebvre's wild throw allowed Gene Alley to come in with Pittsburgh's winning run. Alley singled leading off the 10th, moved to second on Jim Pagliaroni's bunt hit and came around when LeFebvre fielded Jose Pagan's bunt and threw it past third trying for the force-out.

MANISTIQUE Coyotes Like Beaver Island Frozen Apples

"He's called a brush wolf, as contrasted to a timber wolf. He's lazy and will kill for food, but generally not if there is something else available."

That's a description L. J. Verme, biologist in charge at Cusino Wildlife station, Shingleton gives of a coyote, a subject for study by the Conservation department.

An article on findings in the studies, which are continuing, has been prepared. The studies were conducted in the Shingleton and Beaver Island areas, by John J. Ozoga and Elsworth M. Harger.

The coyote studies were made in the 1956-63 period. Coyotes were tracked 827 miles in the snow. Whitetail deer constituted the coyote's primary winter food in both areas. They killed few deer and usually brought down only the weakest and smallest deer.

Although certain other abundant prey species were available, coyotes were relatively unsuccessful in capturing them. The influence of this predator in controlling game populations in winter appears to be negligible, the concluded.

The coyote lived on prairies in southwestern Michigan since pre-settlement days and invaded northern sectors of the state after woodlands were cut by the white man. They are believed to have entered Upper Michigan in 1906, probably arriving from Wisconsin.

The study was undertaken to determine winter behavior of the coyote and the magnitude of its predation upon varied deer.

The scientists estimated that average fall populations of coyote on Beaver Island were one per square mile, and in the Shingleton area, one per four square miles. Range on Beaver Island was reported from 20 to 25 square miles. At Shingleton, where continuous tracking was handicapped by frequent snowfalls, range was estimated at 36 to 50 square miles.

The coyotes moved direct, and swiftly from one deer carcass or prime habitat for show-hoe hares to another. The range overlapped with those of neighboring coyotes to some degree.

Most movement was at night. In mixed aspen-conifer stands and upland hardwoods, and least in open country, where coyotes normally hunted the edges, weaving in and out of adjacent types. Some daytime travel occurred. In Shingleton, mixed aspen-conifer and swamp conifer sites and lowland brush were preferred habitat and the upland hardwoods were avoided.

On Beaver Island, the wind-swept shore of Lake Michigan and frozen inland streams served as travel ways in winter, between select feeding areas. The animals were found to be only slightly gregarious, traveling mostly in groups of two though often singly, especially on Beaver Island. Deer were the primary source of food in both areas.

On Beaver Island deer killed and not retrieved in the previous hunting season and entrails and scraps of venison were the main food source. At Shingleton, in the Petrel Grade area, they killed three juveniles and an adult doe in nine known tries. Eight of 37 deer found dead while tracking had been attacked and died of inflicted wounds and eight additional coyote-killed deer in the yard were located and examined. Of the 16 deer taken by coyotes, three were adults and all but three were killed in March and April, when deer normally are

Chas. Redeker Is Claimed

Funeral services were held for Charles L. Redeker, 45, of 2488 E. Broadway, Fruitport Twp., Muskegon, Aug. 1 at 10:00 a.m. from St. Michael's Catholic Church in Muskegon. Mr. Redeker died July 29 after a short illness.

For the past eight years he was maintenance man at the Beach school. He was a WW II Veteran and belonged to many organizations in the Muskegon area.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel, one daughter, Grace Ann, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redeker, Manistique, one brother, James, Manistique, two sisters, Dorothy Ellithorpe Richland, Wash., and Donna Nelson of W. Memphis, Ark.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery in Muskegon.

Briefly Told

A car driven by Leo Schenkel, 50, of Manistique hit a deer on U.S. 2 in Mueller township at 9:35 p.m. Thursday, State Police reported.

A car driven by Ruth Henzel, 45, of Wausau, Wis., went out of control at 1:10 a.m. Friday on U.S. 2 in Manistique township, injuring the driver. State Police said a dog jumped in her lap, causing the car to go in a ditch. She was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Due to windy weather Thursday, the Manistique Municipal Band Concert in the bandshell was postponed until next week.

Sgt. Gary P. Guertin, USAF and wife and two sons are visiting at the homes of their parents Mr. and Mrs. John P. Guertin, Garden, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lund of Cooks. Sgt. Guertin and his family are being transferred to Glasgow AFB in Montana after serving 2 years duty in Guam.

The National Catholic Society of Foresters will hold a picnic at the Clarence McNamara cottage on Indian Lake, instead of the Harbick cabin. Tuesday, Aug. 8 Pot luck lunch will be served. Members should bring table service. Members meet at St. Francis de Sales parish center for rides at 6 p.m.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Good Coho Catches Made

Mosquitos are still intolerant and repellent is needed still in fishing district streams. Fishing is slow, the department reports. The fish are biting best on natural baits including worms and minnows, in deep holes and away from shoal waters. Trout are taking flies quite readily on beaver ponds and larger streams.

The fishing results by species:

Symbols of fishing conditions: (E) Excellent, (G) Good, (F) Fair.

Northern Pike: Alger County: Sullivan Lake (F), Chippewa County: Waikwa Bay, Lake George, Lake Nicolet (F), Luce County: Muskallonge, Perch Pike, Big Manistique Lakes, Tahquamenon River (F), Mackinac County: Milakoka, Millecoquin Lakes (F), Green Island-Strait of Mackinac (G), Schoolcraft County: Manistique River, Pickering and Snyder Lakes (F).

Walleye: Chippewa County: Upper St. Marys River below Soo (F), Luce County: Big Manistique on Anderson Bar and Tahquamenon River near Deadman's Farm and mouth of Sage River (F).

Yellow Perch: Chippewa County: Hulbert Lake (G), Lake George (G), Waikwa Bay (F), Luce County: Tahquamenon River (G), Muskallonge Lake (G), Manistique Lake (G), Bass Lake (G), Belle Lake (G), Blind Sucker Flowage (F), Mackinac County: Lake (F), Les Cheneaux Channel (G), Naubinway Duck Area (F), Schoolcraft County: Inland Harbor (F), Indian Lake (F), Big Bass Lake (F), Manistique River Bayous (G).

Smallmouth Bass: Mackinac County: Epoufette-Kenyon Bay (F), Milakoka Lake (F), Green Island-Strait of Mackinac (G), Les Cheneaux Channel (F).

Rock Bass: Alger County: Grand Sable Lake (G), Chippewa County: St. Marys River (G), Waikwa Bay (F), Hulbert Lake (F), Luce County: Bass Lake (F), Round Lake (F), Blind Sucker Flowage (F), Tahquamenon River (F), Mackinac County: Millecoquin Lake (F).

Bluegills: Luce County: Deadman's Lake (F), Schoolcraft County: Twin Lake (F), Big Bass Lake (G), Colwell Lake and Crooked Lake (F), Boot Lake (F), Sunken Lake (F).

Brook Trout: Alger County: Sucker and W. Branch River (F), Chippewa County: E. Branch Tahquamenon River, Upper Pine River Watershed (F), Luce County: Upper Tahquamenon River (F), Upper Two Hearted River (G), E. Branch Two Hearted River (F), Little Two Hearted River (F), Silver Creek (F), Silver Creek Ponds (G), Peanut Lake (G), Mackinac County: Black River (F), Upper Carp River (G), Schoolcraft County: E. Branch Fox River (G), especially in Spreads, Milakoka River (F).

Rainbow Trout: Alger County: Lake Superior (F), Luce County: Bass Lake (F), Schoolcraft County: Bear (19) Lake (F).

Coho (Silver) Salmon: Alger County: Good catches are still being made by trolling in Lake Superior off Grand Marais. Schoolcraft County: Good catches are made in Thompson Creek using worms for bait. These fish were stocked in Thompson Creek in May; swam out into Lake Michigan to grow and are now returning as mature "jacks". They average about 12" long (10"-14") and are predominantly mature male fish (These are part of the 46,000-55" Alaskan strain of coho that were planted on May 3, 1967). A small portion of these fish will mature in their second year of life, when they will ascend the "parent" stream to spawn and die. The majority of these fish should mature in the 3rd year at which time many will reach the size of 5 to 10 pounds if food is abundant; and at present it is, in the form of the alewife.

Some 18-22" coho have been reported caught by trollers off the vicinity of Manistique in Lake Michigan. Fish of this size are likely representatives of coho planted in Lake Michigan in 1966. It is possible that some of the 1967 stock could range to this size in Lake Michigan.

Whitefish: Chippewa County: Some good catches are reported from the "Shallows" area above the Soo Locks.

Lake Trout: Alger County: Some good catches are reported by Sport Troller Francis Wood in Lake Superior about 1 to 5 miles off Grand Marais. Coho and rainbow are also caught in this same trolling run.

Four Lake Trout from 4 to 12 pounds were reported taken from Grand Sable Lake this past week on trolling gear.

Bullheads: Alger County:

Ferency Seeks Change In Law

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency proposes revision of Michigan's election laws as an alternative to "sudden and stringent criminal proceedings" against those who violate them.

Ferency charged that recent Wayne County grand jury indictments for illegal campaign contributions have "opened a Pandora's box containing an unlimited supply of political ills."

He referred to recent indictments of several persons by Judge George E. Bowles, one man grand jury for allegedly failing to report 1966 campaign expenses and making illegal contributions.

He suggested that a bipartisan committee of experienced political fund raisers go to work and come up with a fair, honest and workable set of laws that both major political parties can use to raise necessary funds and still protect the public interest.

"Traditionally, law enforcement authorities have either looked the other way, or have quietly advised those running afoul of the election laws to take corrective action even after the fact," he said.

Ferency said the Democratic State Central Committee is aware of several flagrant violations of election laws.

But he added that "the enforcement sword cuts both ways, and nothing would be gained by indicting dozens of Republican and Democratic fund raisers and contributors who are oftentimes oblivious to the whole problem."

"Accepting campaign contributions from what amounts to anonymous sources and failing to file distribution statements with the county clerk are common occurrences throughout the state," he said.

"Even if we only removed the ambiguities and recodified present laws, it would help," he said.

Ruppe Seeking Restoration Of Lamprey Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—An effort to restore $100,000 for a Lake Huron lamprey control program is underway in the Senate. Rep. Philip E. Ruppe, R-Mich., said here.

The House cut the lamprey control item to $957,000 from the administration-recommended $1,057,000 before sending the bill to the Senate.

Lamprey programs to poison the eel-like creatures which destroy trout and other game fish have succeeded in Lakes Michigan and Superior.

Canada already has appropriated $45,000 for its share of the Huron program, Ruppe said.

Early Entrant

MUSKEGON (AP)—With 11 months to go, the Miss Michigan Pageant reports the first officially-signed entrant for the 1968 beauty and talent contest. The record early entrant is Sharon Denise Kiehler, 17, Miss Lapeer of 1967 and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Kiehler. Sharon is a senior at Lapeer High School.

State Pageant Director Jack C. Bushong said there is a growing number of communities holding local contests a year in advance to give their contestants the benefit of a year's training for the state finals.

Card of Thanks

Froberg

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear brother, Harry Froberg. We are grateful to Pastor George Olson for his comforting words, to the pallbearers, to Mr. and Mrs. Strandski, to Mrs. Cretens and Mrs. Hirn, to the L. C. W. of Calvary Church, to those who sent flowers, cards and food. Your many acts of kindness will never be forgotten.

House Requests
MSU To Abandon
Step Tuition Plan

LANSING (AP) — A resolution calling on Michigan State University's trustees to abandon plans for basing tuition on ability to pay passed the House with no votes to spare.

The resolution, condemning the system as "unique, unworkable and undoubtedly constitutionally questionable," attracted exactly the needed 56 votes. Some 38 members opposed the resolution, which has no binding effect.

A substitute resolution praising the graduated tuition system as "a socially progressive effort" was defeated 31-63.

Republican Floor Leader William Hampton, who favored the resolution, said Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley is expected to rule soon on whether it is legal for MSU to require students to divulge their families' incomes.

He added that the MSU plan is based only on gross income and would not take into consideration the number of children in a family.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

When Jack Sinclair retired, he took his wife on a holiday cruise. They'll be home next week, and I'm certain going to tell them how much they've been missed here at the church.

Like all ministers, I need a lot of help from my congregation to make our church a happy, inspiring place. Sinclair and his wife are just two of the many older members that keep things running smoothly. I depend on them for good ideas, for experienced administration and, very often, for a wise approach to young people's problems. In return, the Sinclairs have often told me how important their church has been in their lives, and how they both enjoy being needed.

That's one of the great secrets of life, I think . . . to be needed. And there isn't a church anywhere that doesn't have a real need for "senior citizens" to help with God's work.
